

Global thinking,
interdisciplinary research:
the spirit of Leibniz!

We strive for universality, diversity and interdisciplinarity. With more than 30,000 students, three Clusters of Excellence, 5,000 members of staff, over 150 institutes and an outstanding infrastructure, Leibniz University Hannover offers an innovative environment for top-level education and research in a comprehensive range of subjects.

The Faculty of Humanities invites applications for the following position of Salary Scale W3 NBesO starting at the next possible date:

University Professorship (m/f/d) in Sport Pedagogy and Sport Didactics

The Position

We seek an internationally acknowledged colleague who represents sport pedagogy, including aspects of sport didactics, within all degree courses of the institute of sport science. The particular focus should be on the field of action "School".

The discourse of societal transformation in the areas dealing with diversity and heterogeneity, or digital teaching and learning, or sustainability is desired.

Cooperation with all fields of education and research as well as further relevant institutions of the LUH (i.e. the Leibniz School of Education) are regarded as habitual and promising. The ability to contribute to the internationalisation of sports pedagogy and sports didactics through international cooperation in research and teaching as well as experience abroad in academic institutions is desired.

Your Profile

- Research in the field of sport pedagogy and sport didactics
- Empirical education research in sport (qualitative and/or quantitative)
- Advanced knowledge in quantitative and/or qualitative research methods
- Successful acquisition of competitive third-party project funding
- Excellent didactic competencies in teaching and commitment to academic self-administration
- An academic degree in sport sciences as well as an above-average doctorate in the field of didactics and sport pedagogy
- Proof of 3-years school practice or eligible pedagogic experience
- Ability to teach courses in English.

What we can offer you

LUH offers excellent working conditions in a vibrant scientific community combined with an exceptional standard of living in a modern city surrounded by nature. In addition, LUH provides numerous opportunities for further education and training as well as many services to support families. The Dual Career Service at LUH is aimed at the partners of newly-appointed professors and provides support with career perspectives in Hannover and the surrounding region. As a central point of contact for international researchers, the Welcome Centre provides information on non-academic queries concerning your stay in Hannover.

General duties and employment requirements are specified in the Lower Saxony Higher Education Act (NHG). For detailed information on employment requirements, please contact the Appointment Matters department.

Leibniz University Hannover promotes equal opportunities, diversity and a balance between work and family life (Equal Opportunities Office). For this reason, female researchers are particularly encouraged to apply. Furthermore, we welcome applications from international researchers. Preference will be given to equally-qualified applicants with disabilities (Representative for employees with disabilities). Upon request, part-time employment is possible.

Candidates aged 50 or over at the intended time of appointment who do not already have civil servant status in Germany will be employed as regular members of staff.

For further information, please contact Prof. Dr. Sandra Günter (Phone: +49 511 762-3148 or via Email: sandra.guenter@sportwiss.uni-hannover.de).

Please submit your application by June 30, 2022 exclusively via the appointment portal of Leibniz University Hannover at:

<https://berufungen.uni-hannover.de>

Information on the collection of personal data according to article 13 GDPR can be found at <https://www.uni-hannover.de/en/datenschutzhinweis-bewerbungen/>.